GUEST CURATOR SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

ACCEPTING APPLICATIONS FEBRUARY 1 – 28, 2010

Rush Arts Gallery + Resource Center's exhibition program seeks to facilitate a contemporary dialogue between new audiences and emerging artists, writers and curators through four thematically structured group exhibitions per year. RAG provides an inclusive space for the entire emerging artistic community and promotes experimental ventures in visual production, curatorial work, performance and community involvement. The gallery offers an excellent opportunity for independent curators to realize their projects in an established venue that makes innovative contributions to the contemporary art world. Please note that Nico Wheadon, Curatorial Director reviews exhibition proposals once a year; while the gallery solicits most guest curatorial projects, unsolicited applications are also welcome but only in the month of February through the process outlined below. All applicants must have prior curatorial experience. If you are interested in becoming a Guest Curator, your submission should include the following:
